

Gladiator locking mechanism

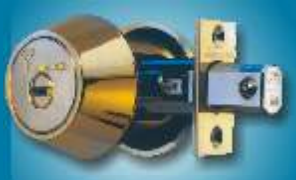

Multi point vehicle lock for the international market

Flight deck security lock, a joint venture of Rav Bariach and IAI

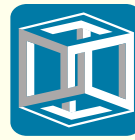

Swivel and returnable mechanism for the "Corner Shot" gun.

Hercular, an innovative DEADBOLT lock for the North American market

Ninja, a wire tightener for agricultural and fencing uses

R C L E
Mechanical Innovations

What makes a leading product?
Innovative and original design solutions, clear and visible relative advantage, optimal production technologies, intellectual property protection.

Eyal Artsiely an agricultural machinery practical engineer, a proven innovator, specializes in development of mechanical products and mechanisms. Design and project management outsourcing services are given by O.E. Artsiely Ltd.

2001-2005: VP R&D in Rav-Bariach Company. Leader of the R&D and engineering departments, dealing with locking products, security doors and windows, vehicle protection products and more. The position consists of giving innovative solutions to design challenges, professionally leading the engineering staff, managing engineering projects, connections with suppliers and sub-contractors, intellectual property management and maintaining the company's products market relative advantage. During this period, more than 20 patent applications were submitted for Eyal's inventions.

1998-2001: R&D engineer in MUL-T-LOCK. The position consisted of design and development of innovative locking products. Being in charge on the North American markets. Direct connections with the company's major customers in order to adapt the products to the specific market demands.

1995-1998: technical service manager for Polaris KTM Israel company. Leading and educating a network of sell and repair shops for Polaris ATV's and KTM motorcycles in Israel. Writing technical instructions, educating mechanics and salesmen, finding new purchase sources, suggesting changes and improvements to the equipment manufacturers and managing customers technical complaints. Development of specially configured ATV's and equipment for the Israeli security services.

1983-1995: A farmer in the Jordan Valley, self-developing of agricultural aids. Development of the NINJA wire tightener, producing and selling in large quantities all around the globe. Owner of Polaris ATV's selling and repairing business, having two shops, salesmen and mechanics, and a service cars fleet.

1982-1983: R&D engineer in MUL-T-LOCK. Some of the developed products still run on production lines today.

1976-1980: Army service in the IDF. A part of the technical engineering and field structure.

Diplomas certifications and courses:

Agricultural machinery practical engineer (listed in the Israeli engineers association)

Certified repair shop manager for vehicles and tractors.

Business entrepreneurship course, Tefen entrepreneurship school.

Project management course, Israel manager education center HAMI"L

CAD course, Unigraphics design software

All the products, shown in the pictures are Eyal's inventions, having Eyal's name on their patent applications as the inventor.

Eyal Artsiely Mobile: 052-3867521 נייד: איל ארציאלי

Tel: 972-2-9947015 טל: פקס: 972-2-9941622

E-mail: ag98al@netvision.net.il

www.rcle.co.il